Trump kicks off 2024 prez bid with visits to key states

WASHINGTON

FORMER US President Donald Trump is set to kick off his 2024 White House bid on Saturday with visits to a pair of early voting states, his first campaign events since launching his bid more than two months ago.

Trump will be the keynote speaker at the New Hampshire GOP's annual meeting before travelling to Columbia, South Carolina, where he is set to unveil his leadership team at the Statehouse. The states hold two of the party's first three nominating contests, giving them enormous power in selecting its nominee.

Trump and his allies hope the events will offer a show of force behind the former president after a sluggish start to his campaign that left many questioning his commitment to running again. In recent weeks, his backers have been reaching out to political operatives and elected officials to secure support for Trump's reelection at a critical juncture when other Republicans are preparing their own expected challenges.

"The gun is fired, and the campaign season has started," said Stephen Stepanek, chair of the New Hampshire Republican Party and the co-chair of Trump's 2016 campaign in ing and pummeling Nichols the state. Memphis Police Director

The officers were "aggressive, loud, using profane language and probably scared Mr. Nichols from the very beginning." AP having to find alternatives, and that's part of the job we have to do, is help them with alternatives," Nuland told members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee during a Congressional hearing on Russia.

She was responding to a question from Senator Jeff Merkley when she told lawmakers that she is travelling to India.

"I'm glad to hear that you're going to India. I would think that after the performance of Russian weapons on the battlefield has been demonstrated, they might be somewhat less interested," Merkley said.

India has faced flak from US lawmakers, both Republicans and Democrats, for choosing to abstain from a UN vote to rebuke Russia's invasion of Ukraine. US officials have also expressed concern over India's purchase of the S-400 missile systems by Russia.

"On my last trip to India, that was one of the first things we said, look at how these weapons perform on the battlefield," Nuland said in response.

Second time in 3 years; UK airline Flybe collapses, all flights cancelled

LONDON

STRUGGLING United Kingdom regional airline Flybe collapsed for the second time in three years on Saturday, putting jobs on the line and leaving passengers stranded. The airline initially slumped into bankruptcy in March 2020, shedding 2,400 jobs, as coronavirus restrictions decimated the travel industry. However, it relaunched in April last year, flying many of the same routes out of Belfast, Birmingham and London Heathrow. In a statement, the grounded flyer said it had called in bankruptcy accountants again, and warned passengers not to travel to airports as all flights were now cancelled, including its international routes from Switzerland and the Netherlands.

The UK's Civil Aviation Authority said passengers should "make their own alternative travel arrangements via other airlines, rail or coach operators," leaving customers with lengthy and potentially expensive trips to get home.

CAA consumer director Paul Smith said, "It is always sad to see an airline enter administration and we know that Flybe's decision to stop trading will be distressing for all of its employees and customers.' The UK government said that its immediate priority would be to support anyone trying to get home and those who have lost their jobs.

"This remains a challenging environment for airlines, both old and new, as they recover from the pandemic, and we understand the impact this will have on Flybe's passengers and staff," it said.

The Civil Aviation Authority is providing advice to passengers to help them make their journeys as smoothly and affordably as possible.

It added that most of Flybe's destinations were within the UK, so alternative means of transport were available. AP

British Indian Princess Sophia Duleep Singh to get Blue Plaque

LONDON

SOPHIA Duleep Singh, the daughter of Maharaja Duleep Singh, the last ruler of the Sikh empire and the goddaughter of Queen Victoria, is to be honoured with a commemorative Blue Plaque in London.

Princess Sophia was among the leading suffragettes who fought for women's right to vote in 1900s Britain.

The Blue Plaque scheme, run by the English Heritage charity, honours the historic significance of particular buildings associated with historical figures and its 2023 cohort includes the 19th century home of the British Indian Princess. "Daughter of the deposed Maharajah Duleep Singh, who already has a plaque in Holland Park (London) and goddaughter of Queen Victoria, Princess Sophia Du-leep Singh was an active suffragette and made full use of her royal title to generate support for female enfranchisement," notes English Heritage in its Blue Plaque announcement.

"She was a dedicated member of the Women's Social and Political Union and the Women's Tax Resistance League. The plaque will mark the large house near Hampton Court Palace which was granted to Sophia and her sisters as a grace and favour apartment by Queen Victoria in 1896," it notes. British Indian writer Anita Anand, the author of Sophia: Princess, Suffragette, Revolutionary, expressed her excitement at the historical heroine being recognised with a Blue Plaque. "Princess Sophia Duleep Singh will finally get the recognition she deserves," said Anand.
