

IIT Madras offers AI, 3-D technologies to three schools in Malappuram

The Hindu Bureau
MALAPPURAM

From this academic year, the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Madras will be offering artificial intelligence (AI) and three-dimensional technologies to three schools in the district. Indira Gandhi Memorial Tribal School, the Buds School, and Peevees Public School at Nilambur will be the beneficiaries of IIT technologies.

The Bridgeway Group, which is celebrating its golden jubilee, has made it possible for the schools in the tribal belt. It is the first time that IIT Madras is directly reaching out to a school campus in the State, said Bridgeway Group chief executive officer Jabir Abdul Wahab.

"We wanted to make some lasting contributions to the new generation as we are celebrating our golden jubilee. That's what led us to go for a collaboration with IIT Madras. They will be setting up device engineer laboratories in the schools," said Mr. Wahab, adding that the collaboration would expose students to higher level technologies.

The programme will be for the students of classes 8 and 9. The five-year programme is expected to help them rise to the junior engineer level. Mr. Wahab said the programme would focus on the practical skills of the students and impart them knowledge about 3-D printing and AI.

He said the programme would not be a mere eye-wash. "We are determined to equip children with the know-how needed to enter an IIT campus by the time they complete their higher secondary education," said Mr. Wahab.

He added that emphasis would be given to the tribal school, especially in view of the fact that there were several dropouts from the school. "We hope the new programme will help reduce the rate of the tribal student dropout," he said.

The programme is being implemented through the Jan Sikshan Sansthan (JSS). A memorandum of understanding was signed between IIT Madras and Bridgeway Group. The programme will begin this academic year.

Exclusion of academic bodies from Minister's event sparks protest

The Hindu Bureau
KANNUR

The Kerala Private College Teachers Association (KPCTA) has raised strong objection to the exclusion of Senate and academic council members from a function attended by Minister R. Bindu at Kannur University on May 31.

The event focused on addressing academic communities and university officials on the implementation of the new four-year degree course. KPCTA State general secretary Dr. Premachandran Keezhoth demanded clarification on whether the Minister's office was aware of the exclusion.

KPCTA Kannur regional committee took strong objection to the exclusion of Senate and academic council members from the meeting, terming it as disrespectful. Dr. Keezhoth stressed the importance of approval from the Senate and the academic council before the implementation of new degree courses, noting that the Senate was the highest policy-making authority in the varsity.

Accused in child assault case remanded in police custody

The Hindu Bureau
KASARAGOD

The Kasaragod Additional District Sessions Court has given P.A. Saleem, who was accused of kidnapping and sexually assaulting a 10-year-old girl at Kanhangad, in police custody for five days for further probe.

Saleem, who had previously been remanded, will be taken to a jewellery outlet at Koothuparamba on Thursday where the girl's earring was sold, as part of evidence collection. The decision of the court aligns with the investigating team's request, emphasising the need for continued custody to prevent the accused from committing more crimes.

Meet to address concerns of migrant workers

The Hindu Bureau
KALPETTA

A meeting of senior officials of various departments, chaired by Wayanad District Collector Renu Raj, on Wednesday decided to hold a joint meeting with the district administration of the neighbouring Coorg district in Karnataka to ensure the welfare of migrant workers from the district.

"Hundreds of workers from the district, especially tribal workers, have been working in coffee and ginger plantations in adjacent districts in Karnataka. Still, the welfare and security of the workers are yet to be ensured. Hence, a joint meeting is the need of the hour," Ms. Raj said.

Security guard allegedly assaulted in Thalassery

The Hindu Bureau
KANNUR

A security guard sustained a broken leg after he was allegedly assaulted by a motorist following a dispute over parking in front of a hospital here on Tuesday evening.

Naufal, 32, a resident of Kadavathur Mundhoth, was charged under a non-bailable section by the Thalassery police.

Pradeep Kumar, 47, a security guard at the hospital, alleged that the young man, infuriated by his request to move the car, assaulted him. Despite people rushing to the scene, Naufal allegedly continued the assault, kicking Pradeep Kumar and breaking his leg.

The security guard, now undergoing treatment at the hospital, said the attack was unprovoked.
