Boost to global content exchange Swedish news portal joins BRICS media network

-: Trinity Mirror Online Team :-

In a move signalling growing international media collaboration, the Swedish news portal NewsVoice has joined the TV BRICS International Media Network, becoming the 26th country to participate in the organization's global content exchange. The agreement, signed by NewsVoice CEO and Editor-in-Chief Torbjorn Sassersson and TV BRICS CEO Janna Tolstikova, aims to foster greater understanding of BRICS+ activities and promote a multipolar world.

NewsVoice, a Stockholm-based publication founded in 2011, focuses on a wide range of topics, including public issues, healthcare, science, technology, music, and culture, with a strong emphasis on journalistic investigations and a multicultural perspective. Through this partnership, the portal will gain access to exclusive information from national media sources within BRICS+ countries, while also having the opportunity to amplify its own reporting on the international stage. "This media cooperation will make it easier for people in Sweden to better understand the significance of BRICS, how international cooperation and trade can ensure overall development, and how the Global South and East can gain great living standards for their peoples. Also, BRICS promotes a safer multipolar world," stated Torbjorn Sassersson. The collaboration will encompass content exchange, joint production of media materials, and staff training, strengthening the media capabilities of both entities.

Janna Tolstikova, CEO of TV BRICS, highlighted the network's expanding reach, noting that its content is now available in over 80 countries worldwide. She emphasized that TV BRICS is open to media outlets beyond BRICS member states and partner nations, with organizations from Argentina, Armenia, Venezuela, Vietnam, Zimbabwe, Kenya, Colombia, Kyrgyzstan, Mozambique, Serbia, Tunisia, and Chile already participating. "Sweden, represented by NewsVoice, has become the 26th country to join the regular content exchange through the international media network," Tolstikova said. TV BRICS is also focused on enhancing its expertise in international cooperation, maintaining a network of approximately 500 experts from various countries, including Europe. Notably, the network has featured in-depth interviews with

Janna Tolstikova: championing global media collaboration

Janna Tolstikova serves as the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of TV BRICS, an international media network dedicated to fostering communication and cultural exchange among BRICS nations—Brazil, Russia, India, China, and South Africa. Under her leadership, TV BRICS has significantly expanded its global partnerships, enhancing the network's influence and reach.

Advocacy for media dialogue

Tolstikova emphasizes the media's vital role in bridging diverse cultures and civilizations. In anticipation of the World Media Summit, she highlighted the summit's importance as a platform for global media outlets to exchange experiences, address industry challenges, and explore effective solutions collectively. She stated, "It is the work of the media that allows us to 'build bridges' between countries and entire civilizations, to introduce them to each other, to unite and bring them together." english.news.cn

Expanding international partnerships

Under Tolstikova's guidance, TV BRICS has forged strategic partnerships with major media organizations worldwide:

Venezuela: A cooperation

agreement was signed with Venezuela's state-owned broadcaster, Venezolana de Televisión, aiming to enhance information collaboration and provide Venezuelan audiences with insights into BRICS nations' activities. tvbrics.com

Ethiopia: TV BRICS partnered with Fana Broadcasting Corporate (FBC), Ethiopia's largest state-owned media holding company, to facilitate accurate information dissemination about the evolving multipolar system and Ethiopia's growing role in the BRICS+ community. tvbrics.com

Egypt: A collaboration with the Middle East News Agency (MENA) was established to strengthen Egypt's presence in the international media space and inform the public about BRICS activities. tvbrics.com

Commitment to media excellence

Tolstikova's dedication to journalistic excellence is further exemplified by her recognition of other media organizations' milestones. She extended heartfelt congratulations to the Islamic Republic News Agency (IRNA) on its 90th anniversary, praising its unwavering commitment to accurate and insightful coverage that has shaped public discourse in Iran and beyond. IRNA

Focus on African media integration

Recognizing the importance of authentic representation, Tolstikova advocates for African media to have a prominent voice in the global narrative. She emphasizes that African media resources should have the freedom to present their perspectives to global audiences, ensuring a more accurate and comprehensive understanding of the continent's diverse cultures and viewpoints. tvbrics.com

Through her visionary leadership, Janna Tolstikova continues to position TV BRICS as a pivotal platform for international media cooperation, fostering mutual understanding and cultural exchange across the globe.

prominent European figures such as Helga Larouche, head of the Schiller Institute (Germany), and Richard Sakwa, Professor at the University of Kent (United Kingdom).

This latest partnership underscores the growing interest in BRICS+ activities and the increasing importance of diverse media perspectives in the global information landscape.

US to mediate Israel-Lebanon border row resolution

Israel and Lebanon, with mediation from the United States, have agreed to start negotiations to resolve border disputes, the Axios news portal reported on Tuesday, citing a White House official.

The agreed negotiations are expected to concern the Israeli-Lebanese land border, the official told the news portal, adding that as a part of the reached consensus, Israel will release five Lebanese prisoners.

Later in the day, the US Deputy Special Envoy for the Middle East, Morgan Ortagus, confirmed the development, saying that the talks are aimed at

of "several outstanding issues between the two countries," including the release of Lebanese prisoners, disputed areas along the Blue Line, and the remaining five points where the Israeli troops still are deployed.
